Events

This year's school events proved to be exhilarating and exciting for all involved. The organizers eagerly collaborated and prepared special days to intice and enthrall the members of The Study's family. From September's annual cancer awareness Girls for the Cure Walk to May's Action ABC fundraiser, for which students read books to raise money to teach people in Montreal's community to read, the school's community came together and actively participated in every event held. November's Bazaar proved to be a great success, with the attendance reaching record highs. Spirit Week in February, organized by an exclusive committee, was full of fun-filled adventures, which included ever-popular Tacky Tie and Twin Day, for all students and staff involved. These are just a few of the examples of the festive occasions which served as an opportunity for students, staff and even parents to gather and celebrate different occurrences in The Study's community, with the even greater benefit of knowing good deeds are being performed for someone else. Every occasion was extremely well prepared and done in fine taste, and the contributors should be acknowledged for this. Everyone concerned with certainly not forget this year's amazing activities.

England 2000

England...a land of beauty, culture and history. Commonly recognized as the home of the Queen and bad teeth, England offers a lot more than meets the eye. From York to London, the country is inhabited by friendly people always willing to lend a hand. Although this write up may be biased, as I am a self-proclaimed anglophile, I assure you that England was an incredible experience for us all! From Salisbury Cathedral to down time with our "mates" we experienced every aspect of England. New words like "chips", "chaps", and "the tube", soon became a part of our vocabulary and were interchanged with our boring Canadian lingo. Although our days were long, and we were sometimes "Cathedraled-out" we blazed through the fourteen days with enthusiasm and exhilaration with a little help from our tour guide Marc, our bus driver Keith, and our wonderful teachers. A special thank you to Mr. Hamilton, Mrs. Ewing and Mrs. Fry for accompanying us, we must have been a handful! And to all the members of the "Leader Society" Cheers! And may the force be with you!

Sports

Sports

Self- esteem is the way a young woman perceives her self worth. Her self-esteem develops gradually as she matures and interacts with others, and as she receives feelings of approval, liking and respect. But to reach her fullest potential, a child needs to develop her own feelings of self-confidence and self- worth. One very important way for a child to do this is through athletics.

We athletes at The Study have been trained and acknowledged as equals from the beginning of our scholastic careers. We have been encouraged to set higher goals for ourselves, and we have overcome traditional sex stereo types. We have had the chance to take full advantage of the opportunities given to us by our parents, as well as by the staff and the facilities at our school. We are women, hear us roar. We are women, watch us score.

Committees

You know the old adage; "there's a truth behind every joke"? Well, to alter that saying slightly, there is a committee behind every event. From Spirit Week to Bazaar to regular everyday prefectorial work, these are the people who make everything work. We have worked hard, long hours most days of the year, all for the benefit of the students and teachers in the school. Some of us have even been so lucky as to come in to the school to work on weekends! This section is dedicated to all the committees who work so hard this year to make it all happen. So, as a motion of respect to the "brains behind the operations" in this school, don't skip this section. Rather, read it very carefully, as you reminisce on the year's amazing activities and events, brought to you by yours truly...committees!

Yearbook

Wow, it's finally over! We've managed to pull this off! However, you would not be holding this Yearbook in your hands right now if it weren't for the help of the following people.
First off, we'd like to thank Miss Liogas. She managed to track us down every lunch and drag us to her office to work on the seemingly endless pages we had to complete. We couldn't have done it without her help and... did we mention that she's a genius?! Secondly, we'd like to thank Mme Charpentier. Without her help to manage our large and sometimes UN-cooperative committee, we probably would not have managed to get anything done during Universal. Her superb organizational skills always came in handy, especially when it came to the advertisements. We would also like to thank our committee who ran around the school trying to get teachers and students to hand in pictures, even though most of the time they came back empty handed. A special thanks also goes to Manna Chan who gave up almost two weeks of her summer to help us finish the last sixty pages. THANK YOU!

As a final note to our readers, we hope that you like the changes we've made in the Yearbook (we do realize that we've changed everything!) and hope that you won't hold it against us if you don't!

Good luck to next year's editors (you'll need it!),
Poki Lau and Sissi Séguret

Note to the reader: because we were so busy we didn't have time (or remember) to take a picture of the two of us (the editors). When we finally got around to making this page, Poki had left town. We therefore had to "touch up" a picture by taking Lauren Goldman's head out and inserting mine in. Thanks to Photoshop my neck looks distorted. Keep that in mind when looking at the picture above. Thanks, Sissi

Student Council

Head Girl

What can I say about my year as Head Girl? Quite a lot actually, but I know that Sissi and Ms. Liogas will be mad if my writeup is longer than 250 words. So I will keep this short, and to the point. It was a great year for me, and there were so many people that I absolutely could not have done without. First and foremost, Ms.Swiderski. You were the most amazing person a Head Girl could ever ask for. Always organized, and always "on the ball", you made sure that we had all landed at every Prefect Council Meeting. Secondly, I owe a humongous thank you to all six of the Senior Prefects. You did such an amazing job this year, and I really couldn't believe how well each activity turned out. Friday morning assemblies were definitely our forte, though! The best thing about this year for me has been getting to know a lot of the kids in the younger grades. I feel happy knowing that the school is going to be in such good hands for so many years to come. Last, but definitely not least, I think that I have to thank a couple of teachers who were always there for me this year. I must have talked their ears off every day, but they never complained about it. Mrs. Ewing and Mr. Hamilton – I definitely could not have done without you! Good luck next year, Chaya, I know you'll make a great Head Girl. Keep it fun and laugh at your mistakes. I guarantee that you'll make a couple.

Sub-Head

I have to say, being Sub-Head Girl this year was a lot of fun for me. I really enjoyed working with Jessica Tory and the rest of the Student Council as well as my favourite and wonderful Spirit Week Committee. I know that I've grown a lot and learned many things from this year. Although I was always busy with some small task or another it has probably been one of the most fulfilling jobs I've ever had. I loved organising Spirit Week and all the events that came with it...pyjama day, tacky tie day, twin day, karaoke and more. That was one busy week, but thanks to the people who helped out it "went off without a hitch". The other events that we had this year: Bazaar, Christmas lunch, our Gr. 7&8 dances, and our always interesting assemblies. I hope we kept everyone at least mildly amused. Nonetheless, I know that I completely enjoyed my last year here and I hope I won't be forgotten too soon. What else can I say, it was an honour to represent you and I hope everyone had a fun year. To the upcoming grade 11's and to next years leaders, good luck with all you do and try not to let yourselves get overly stressed, but don't worry, you will never be as good as us! Anyway, here's my final thought: as I move on to new and exciting things I will always remember my time here and I will always treasure the things that I learned. Thank you for giving me the chance to be your Sub-Head Girl, I will never forget it!

Sports Captain

This year's success in athletics can be measured in many ways. However, one of the goals this year was to emphasize the importance of teamwork and interdependence, and our greatest success can be seen in the boost of confidence and playing level of every girl involved in athletics. This year, every girl that has played on a team has gained a greater understanding of what it means to be part of a team.

At the beginning of the year, all our athletes were independent women. This year they have learnt to become interdependent: they understand that they cannot do everything for themselves as efficiently or as effectively as when they work as a part of a whole. They have demonstrated the concept of synergy- where the parts are more important than the sum of its whole. They have supported one another on and off the field, built up their focus and unity. It is cleat that the extraordinary power of their teamwork has truly placed them all in the limelight.

Thank you all for an amazing year, and please promise me you'll remember one impoıtant thing: WEAR SUN BLOCK AND STAY HYDRATED!!! xoxo, Laur

Entertainment

Being entertainment prefect this year was such an honor...it was hard at times, a little stressful, but all in all it was a large party! Everything was so successful this year because of my awesome entertainment committee...I could always count on Julie and Laura's dedication, Kim's creativity, Lisa's artistic talent (although she tried to convince me that she was not part of this committee), and Holly...the most crucial part in all of our achievements. I cannot stress enough how thankful I am that you covered for me at Christmas dinner when I skipped town. Good luck to Elena next year, I hope you can rock as hard as we did...

Kristin Johnston

Treasurer

This year as acting Treasurer for the reinvented Senior Student Council proved to be quite a challenge. Whereas in other years, the Treasurer was solely in charge of charitable funds, this year I had the additional responsibility of managing the council's money. Throughout the course of the year I aided in organizing activities, from Girls for the Cure to Pizza Lunches, and I have to say I am extremely proud of every single event that took place at The Study. This year would not have been possible without the help of several people, namely my committee - Anne, Laura, Lisa and Karen, the other six members of the Student Council and without a doubt, Mrs. Swiderski. Good luck to Leah, I know she will make all past Treasurers' proud. The opportunity to be Treasurer was the most rewarding experience of Grade 11, and it opened my eyes as to how even a cynical teenager like me can attempt to change the world, and maybe even do so in a small way. So on this note, I leave these words:

"Change is good, fifty dollar bills are better!" - Anonymous.

Grad Committee

Decoration, limos, dinner menu, flowers, bus, hosts, cheques, tuck, car wash, pizza parties, hotel, invitations, blah, bah, blah, blah, blah... the list keeps going and going in a stressful, but still good sense. What can I say about Grad...Grad...Grad is the biggest event of high school and it was a blast to plan for. Thanks to a great committee, Laura, Holly, and Kristin for being efficient and always willing to help. Thanks to Ms. Anderson for all of her guidance and amazing support in making it a complete success. And thanks to the entire graduating class for disagreeing on just about everything, making planning for Grad a great challenge... thank heavens for voting... just kidding. For all the classes to come: Get exited...Get dolled up... and on your Grad night, party like it's 1999...or any other year for that matter.

Tuck Committee

Many ask: "What is tuck?" Well...let us ponder. It is the true source of candy, chocolate and sugar for every student in the Senior School...But Alas, it is more than that. Tuck is a great contributor of Grad fundraising. Sugar is a necessity for many of the students...we realise this and from it we prosper. This school year was a great year for Tuck. Our selection increased with Doritos and All Dressed chips, and we hope that in the future the variety will be even greater. Remember us for our chocolate, our candy and our minds.

"Life is like a box of chocolates, you never know what you're goona to get."

Newspaper

As the editors of the Study student newspaper, Zip, we have enjoyed putting together the first issues of what we hope will be a continuing tradition in the school. With so many contributors, working and organizing the newspaper was a challenging task. Getting everybody together and finding incentive for interesting articles and features required a lot of organization and creativity. Undoubtedly, the most difficult part were the grueling hours in front of the computer organising the various articles into an aestheticly pleasing format. However, we managed to successfully release several issues and enjoyed our work. Thank you to a great writing staff!

MΓ Mu Gamma

Hey there our darling Mu Gammian Rangers! This year has been full of firsts for Mu Gamma. We had three grade tens leading the way, we managed to bring in tons of excellents, and you got loads of candy (for a change)!! We did well! We hope your year was as amazing as ours! We'll never forget your spirit and energy, thanks a lot for a fantabulous year! Good luck to next year's officials, and don't forget, we'll always be'da bomb!!

Love always, Zoe, Jessica & Alex

BΛ Beta Lambda

Dear BL,
We really enjoyed house meetings this year. Courtney Maddy and I think you are all sooooo awesome. We have no complaints whatsoever. You girls were so good, we got tons of excellents and our house was sooo spirited. Thank you soooo much for listening to us, we luv you,

Julia, Maddy & Courtney

KP Kappa Rho

This year the spirit in the house has increased unbelievably. With the addition of house days and the house shirts people are more energized to participate in the house activities. It is really encouraging to see so many people with so much spirit who wanted to participate in all of the activities. I hope that next year is even better. Good luck to Karen, Nadia and Mona.

Sincerely

ΔB Delta Beta

ABC! WHO ARE WE! WE'RE DELTA BETA CAN'T YOU SEE? WITH A V-I-C-T-O-R-Y, VICTORY VICTORY THAT'S OUR CRY!

Delta Betians, I am super proud of all of you. This has been an awesome year in terms of spirit, motivation and showing the other houses that DB is the best! Keep on bringing in those cheers, excellents and house points and be good to your leaders next year. Keep on trying your best. I know that Delta Beta will get the house cup one day. I am passing on the DB torch with faith in all of you.

Love Kim, Jess and Randa.

A Word from the Headmistress

Those of you who are graduating from The Study this spring, have reached an exciting turning point in your lives. There will be many others, no doubt, in your futures, but the importance of this one rests on the fact that for the first time in your lives you are faced with a major decision that will effect the future course that you will follow.

Each of you have the potential to continue your formal education; each of you have the potential to become involved in a career that will bring satisfaction to you and in some way benefit others. Whether or not your potential will be realized depends to a great extent on the attitudes the school has helped you form. Attitudes about yourself, your self-image and attitudes about others in the world around you.

The freedom that you will enjoy as mature citizens has its limitations, namely those imposed by the increased responsibilities with which you are continually learning to cope. The school has played a large role in leading you to accept these responsibilities to yourself and to your fellow human beings that adulthood entails.

The responsibility to continue this development now rests squarely on your shoulders. We on the staff are confident that you are prepared to accept the challenges that life demands of you, and wish you much success in attaining the satisfactions that life can provide.

Mary Liistro Hebert

Grad

Grad

When the last drop of sand fills the hourglass, we say good-bye; for now, perhaps forever. And we must all go our separate ways, and meet new fairies and new monsters; facing new experiences unlike this one. And however hard it seems, and however lonely and small we appear to be against all that follows, we have one advantage;
We need not say good-luck.

Fourteen pieces of a friendship, each with its own characteristics hold the memory of this force, this unit, built stronger than chance and luck. And however much the world spins and changes, and however lost you think you are, there are thirteen people who have remained the same in your memory, and who can lead you back home, wherever that may be.

THE LIFERS

Lisa Abramowicz 1995 - 2000

It's the end, my friend, the end. The Study has taken up five years of my life—it's been about living in a beautiful bubble, a house on a hill, and having the pleasure of knowing thirteen MAD people. And now that we're all dispersing, exiting the bubble, a few last words are necessary. Kristin: FAR too many sancratonius hysterical times to name, and I know they won't end. Infinite good times. Laura: Co ty robisz? You're the craziest banchee ever. Earthy crunchy, we will extend the Fugazi base, and get rid of people who don't like them. Kim: Let's go get a bowl of crystalle, TMR style. (Mmmm, Cuba). You are strong and poetic. Berger: Higher State of Consciousness, and wild budgie parties. Holly: Fun with French Canadians, obsessing over boys, and blurred New Years. Julie: NC rocked. Charlie was God. We must gather all the good music of the world into a ball and...you know. Never forget the bathroom conversation. Lauryn: Can you dig it Holmes? When you see me in ten years, please don't trip me and call my children ugly. Sissi: Grande bolé!T'as pas rapport! Poki: Life is great-not! Christine: Tell ' Anthony' I say hi. I'll stop harassing your guy friends. Julia: We'll both eventually get married to windmills. Never stop radiating your silent intelligence. Tory: By the micro! Remember that everything is always ok in the end. Jenny: You have a pink face. Radiohead and pretzels are good. Everyone: My words of wisdom are that nothing really matters, people change...avoid hypocrisy and continue to be weird at all costs. I love you my crazy people.

Jessica Shira Berger 1995 - 2000

"What I wanted to be when I grew up was - in charge." Wilma Vaught

Jessica Berger had an adventurous stay at The Study. While the days diminished her ego, she parts with a confident smile. Her family provided support throughout her journey. Her teachers imparted their knowledge, for which she is grateful. Jessica's classmates will hold a close place in her heart. Poki, Sissi, Jenny and jessicatory made school special/wonderful. At every reunion, Julia and Jessica will be found playing Basketfoot. Lauren and Jessica have agreed to disagree and will settle the score on the golf course. Christine and Jessica are more alike than they care to admit but will always share that bond. She has Holly to thank for making Grade Nine her happiest moments. It was all about partaying at Peel with Kim, looking for American guys, while talking about life's serious subjects. Lisa have her great laughs and the best present, Alenoushka. Julie and Jessica's time together was best spent at random, as this is the way their relationship worked. Kristin was always there for her when Jessica needed it most, and she knows they will remain friends. Laura and Jessica shared unforgettable moments such as the bubble. As this chapter of her life closes, Jessica leaves a few words for her legacy: " ... begula ... I feel like such a jerk." - Saguenay '95

Julia Valdemarin Burnier 1993 - 2000

This has been an experience that has taught what the memories of the past tell, what happens now, and whether the future holds our hands empty or full. This has taught me about the millions of stars and suns that I dream about but perhaps will never touch; the reflections of my eyes and what change will destroy or help in some way. This has been an experience, one perhaps more significant than the others, that has taught me not who I am but who I must find. Thanks to those who made a difference. To my family for showing me the way without saying the words: Mamae & Papai: You were my net to fall on when I needed to, the hands to hold onto when I couldn't do it alone and the support to think independently when it was time. Caro, Eug, & Mig: we're more than siblings, and however far we travel, that will always remain true. To all the teachers who cared to teach wonders beyond the subject: Lochtie, Fry, Balfour, Mac, & Lewis, thanks. And to the memories: far too many to count: Laur: Terry & Lisa live-forever; Laura: to bonding over music and frolicking in the hills of England. You can have shut-gun in the bat-mobile anytime; Kim: random nights...fireworks and Cotillion '99; Holly (the other normal one); thanks for being my refuge; Alfred: Science Fair, labs, and Soupes&Noodles; Lisa: N. Carolina, music, and Charlie...perfection; Christine: two words: res & jazzfest; Sissi (Leader): I'm glad I got to know your true side; Jenny: WAZZUP! Kris: to the memories of being neighbours; Jess B.: poutine, outdoor concerts, and the band; Poki: we'll go driving one day; Jess T: thanks for the daily laughs! And finally to The Study: I'm glad it's over, but I'm glad I went through it.It's been fun; it's been real; it's been something..." My feet are my only carriage, so I've got to push on through."- Bob Marley

I am so terrified to swallow the reality that there is life beyond The Study, yet I am ecstatic.Dad, I love you, you are the strongest man I know. My siblings, I love you all.Mom, you are the flame which has kept me going, I promise to keep the torch inside my heart now, and make you proud."All flesh is as grass, And all the glory of man as the flower of grass.The grass whithers, And its flower falls away, But the word of the Lord endures forever."Kris, L.A.,Germany,late nights venting and drinking Timmy Ho's French vanilla. I'll see you Wednesday.Thank you for everything you have ever given to me. Lisa, who else could possibly understand our deep weird conversations?Your innocent charm and cracked out ways always amuse me. Never change, you are wonderful the way you are.Holly, I will always be your Jimminy Kimmy.Gr. 9 Cotillion and taking pictures all glammed up.Be true to yourself. I am still praying that you will find light at the end of your journey. Jess B.,you 're awesome,i'll be visiting you at Exeter, and you can visit me at Peel. USA!Julie-Dazed and Confused,LaRonde Laura-call me once you get out of prison,we'll go out partying till the ungodly hours of the morning.Never forget the pizza delivery man for my Sweet, you are all mcnasty!Julia, last night in Germany and thanks for the ride in the handicap bus.Lauryn,TMR park secret. Sissi, learn to chew gum quietly.Thank you to all the staff and my teachers for 11 wonderful years.Ann, thank you for allowing me to spill. Marianne, I await our next toast. Lisa and Kris, dont forget 07-07-07 and make sure you wear your sunglasses, especially if we are indoors.

Holly Rebecca Fagan 1989 - 2000

So girl, its time to go out into the real world. I didn't think 11 years could or ever would come to an end. But evidently, it has. I don't know where to begin. I know that this place has made me who I am today, as much as I don't like to admit it. First, I'd like to thank my teachers, you went beyond the words on the page and taught me how to think. (We will do lunch next year Mrs. Lewis) Mom, Dad, thank you for keeping me on track. I love you both. Rob, I don't say it often but thank you. You were there as an inspiration and your intimidation techniques have been much appreciated in the past. Now on to my class. The class of 2000, J.O. don't forget the traintracks, K.C. you are the strongest most incredible person I know and may we always be known as "Kimorly."? L..A. always remember our random wights beck in the day ending with infomercials at 4:00 AM by my couch. K.J I'm not even going to get into what we've been through. We've been friends since the beginning and I don't care what you say, we always will be. J.B you know we're the "normal" ones. L.G grade 7/8 dances we're the bomb and so were Booty and the Ho Fish. J.B, we've had our ups and downs but now that its all over you know I luv ya. L.M how am I going to wake up next year? To the rest, there's a big place in my hear that belongs to you. To Eric, you're the coolest reservoir dog I know. To the FGG, VP, AM, SJ, JL I love you all and I don't know who or where I would be in life without you. Thank you so that's it there's restly not much else to say. AKA HIP HUP Holly and a proud member of the FOG I'd like to give props to "Fine Products of The Study School past, present and future."

Lauren Ingrid Goldman 1993 - 2000

Wow, here I am. There have been so many tears, so many memories, so many lessons that I can't even begin to sum them all up. I'm leaving with so much more than I had when I first came to The Study: more friends, mentors and knowledge than I ever imagined I'd find in the short span of 7 years. I guess the ironic part is despite how different I feel inside, I still look the same as I did in grade 5! Mom&Dad- thanks for your unconditional love& support. Danish you're the best. Long live BSB! Jules: Noparents, our terrible voices & worse sense of direction, soccer trips, inside joke cards, YOUR cold feet. Lolacita: the devils (too many to name), the antelope, No Doubt, England&badminton. Chris: my little chipmunk/heartbreaker/big sister: canoe camping. My walking buddy: SissiAnimalVaChiezMaudite CouverteLeaderShutUp. Duke of Dumbass salutes you. Poks you're my worst enemy. Fix my arm. Don't forget to sleep. O'Coffee (my partner in crime): Two princes and sore teeth from too much candy. Jenny: You're the best roommate ever! Cacciatory: We both know what I'm thinking. See u in history. Kim: TMR, maggotbeast& peach schnapps. Lisa: Dunrae! Stop lying about snails. Holly: matching outfits & snowboarding. Kris: gr.6 movies, Celine Dion, your overflowing dishwasher. Jergs: top 10 lists & its the "gentleman's choice". Thank you DL, BP, EB, NC, ER, AW, JM, JM, SB, MC, PL, LA, ME, DF, TS, AL, RH & WS for your guidance and patience. JW: SWAM, new years, LQ & all night phone calls. JS: WYWH, CptTractor, the Lair. I love you both, thanks for always being there. "Go my sons, burn your books. Buy yourselves stout shoes. Get away to the mountains, the deserts and the deepest recesses of the Earth. In this way and no other will you gain a true knowledge of things and their properties." -Seter Severinus to the greatest family:to an awesome dad-u've made me who i am today and i thank you for that,lin-thanks for all your help along the way,big boy-u can always put a smile on my face,and to my beautiful mother-u're the strongest person i know,mike-u will forever be my best friend,and kim-i have found my soul mate in u.laura baby-i love u,you can always make me laugh,stay strong. jess b.well schizo,it's all about peel baby!i'm so thankful that we found a friend in each other over the last while,i luv u& hope we will always stay in touch.holly-well, you were my first friend, and what has happened to our friendship over the last while is disconserting,not only because i've lost one of the closest people to me,but because i know that these words are some of the last that i will share with u,so i'll choose them wisely.i've loved u all the way simply because you always know how to make me laugh, and laughter is all that will keep me going.kim-there are no words to describe the angelic type of person that u are&i want you to know i always knew that we'd end up as we are today-the closest two friends could possibly be,i am so lucky to have had the chance to know and love u,and i can't lose that. 'dawson's forever' 7-7-07 mount-royal.lisa-"i'd like to catch a rainbow and stick it in a box,so that anytime you wanted to,you could reach in and pull out a piece of sunshine.i'd like to be the one who's there when you're lonely or troubled or you need someone to hold onto.i'd like to do all this and more to make your life happy.but until i learn to catch rainbows and build mountains,let me do for you,that which I know best…let me simply be your friend." 'it's all about 40s in the park (7-07-07,mount-royal) to all my teachers throughout the years,thank u for everything, especially mrs.lewis-i love u, u're the best, mme.begin-somehow u made me a math scholar. to the study school in general,this is the type of place that u go through hating then loving,but in the end,trust me,you'll thank your parents that they chose this school to send u to.although it seems like an altered universe,somewhat sheltered,it creates strong, confident students that are able to take on anything!

"You find happiness not from the destination, but from the journey." Well, ya, this journey was fun…but I'm finally done and I couldn't be happier! 12 LONG years in this crazy place, more than half my life. I can't believe it's over! Looking back on my years here, I see that we are some of the most different people, but together we have had some of the most awesome memories. Remember: Parkside ranch, Saguenay (Begula), outdoor ED, France trip, England 2000 and sitting around the locker room together? Those were the days… L.M, J.B + J.V.B- Booty Crew 4ever! Julia- so many memories, never forget Celine Dion; Laur- camping trip, who knows my guy problems better; Laura- "The Launch" baby!, We're FREE!; Julie- Tams are the only way to go; Jess B.- working in pairs, M&N, News Years '99, House Music; Holly- Ralph, sleep-overs in your orange room; Kris- My favorite secret friend, got any more May Wests? Lisa- random French projects; Jess T.- Vancouver & the Dawson's Creek party; Kim- Randomly going out in gr. 9; Sissi- The Lord of Lights bows down to you, don't ever think you're normal; Jenny- Jennnnnnnny!!! You crazy girl; Poki- we'll take over the world together; Mom and Dad- You guys are my crutch and my inspiration, I love you both! Katie- You are my guide, "By chance we are sisters, by choice we are friends." To all my friends- I love you guys, you've all influenced me more then you could know. Finally, to all the Grads of 2000: Thanx for making my years here unforgettable, wherever life takes you, ENJOY!

Jennifer Francis Kyle 1989 - 2000

Wow Eleven years! That is a really long time. It is hard to believe that it is all over. "Wake from your dreams, the drying of your tears today we escape, we escape..."Radiohead Two birds is what they'll see getting lost upon their way/clouds roll by/low light eye sight/low light/ I don't need the light/I'll find my way from wrong. What's real Our dream I see." Pearl Jam "Could've tuned in ,tuned in, but he tuned out,/bad time/alone in a corridor,/waiting. Locked out. he got up outta there, ran for hundreds of miles/made it to the ocean, had a smoke in a tree,/the wind rose up, set him down on his knee/wave came crashing like a fist to the jaw, delivered him wings, "hey look at me now,/ "arms wide open with the sea as his floor,/oh he's flying. Whole. Floated back down cause he wanted to share/the key to the locks on the chains he saw/ everywhere/first he was stripped,/then he was stabbed/by faceless men,well,/he still stands/and he still gives his love, he just gives it away and the love he receives is the love that is saved,/and sometimes it seen a strange spot in the sky,/ a human being that was given to fly." Pearl Jam "Hold on the thread the currents will shift glide me towards you know something's left and we're all allowed to dream of the next time we hold tight the ring/the sea will rise/please stand by the shore...I will be/I will be there once more/"Pearl Jam "They love me like I was a brother, they protect me, listen to me, they dug me my very own garden, gave me sunshine, made me happy. Nice Dream." Radiohead "Drive in drive out I'm leaving/Drive in drive out I'll come back again/Drive in drive outI"m leaving /Drive in drive out" The Dave Matthews Band "It's something unpredictable, but in the end it is right. I hope you had the time of your life." Green Day "When I go forwards you backwards and somewhere we will meet" Radiohead Thanks for all of those amazing years guys, I will miss all of you.

Poki Lau 1996 - 2000

Fortunately, I am still alive to tell the story. So this is it! This part of my life is coming to an end. I could finally wake up. These four years at The Study have been a dream. Now, lets have a look at the real world! Full of excitement, I stepped into this strange place wondering of what lies ahead of me. I was soon disappointed learning that my class was made up of sixteen people. I have to admit that this is still a shock to me. My years spent at the Study were filled with surprise, anxiety, happiness and disappointment. I've gained and I've lost. I've cried and I've laughed. There is just no one single word to describe the feeling I have toward the school for it is composed of a mixture of conflicting emotions. Listen to this Class of 2000: " Life is too short for you to worry about all kinds of things which you think as being very serious but in fact really not." Remember also this: "Trust your instinct and do what you know would bring you real happiness." Well, I think I've been saying too much. Perhaps one day, randomly on the street, I'll meet you guys again. Bye!

Love Forever, Poki

Laura Elizabeth Marcus 1988 - 2000

Has it come to this? The dreaded yearbook write-up. Trying to cram 12 years into 200 words…what a challenge. Well I"ll start at the beginning. Kindergarden. SURVIVORS! I'll always share a special bond with you2…you know who you are: Alfred (SAT 99) and C the Bean (Booty Crew). HA! H.F. my walking soul mate- "Too Sexy!"-deep conversations-L love you, I"ll miss you…call me anything. L.A you are truly an incredible person-cool, collected…um no-forget you-George, Elaine & Jerry FOREVA! K.C.- Great! You are great! I will always think of you when I…seek revenge on men! HA! Keep in touch…you are an amazing and strong person. L.G. Why would we ever hate each other? I Luv You Man!- The devils –Our many plots! You are INCREDIBLE! Batman- What can I say? Misanthrope…don't forget me! The Wizard will be forever in my heart! K.J. Always remember the intense amount of laughter we have shared together…we are a great team! Boobs, JaJa and the gang together forever! I will never let the Orly fiasco happen again… I promise. J.K You are absolutely crazy…I love you for that- Bath and our search for CDs…Radiohead and Fugazi unite! Sissi: I always knew you had it in you: we are all MAD! Asti Je t'en pris Sissi! Pokster-We have an unspoken bond-the shackles will soon be removed and we will be free! FREEDOM! Ross…Lest we forget the gallivanting and adventures…Could we BE any more obsessed! To my teachers: An incredible bunch! Let The Old School Reign! To my family: I love you all! Together we will be Forever, Fugazi

"Disputed loud and long,/ Each in his own opinion/ Exceedingly stiff and strong,/ Though each was partly in the right/ And all were in the wrong." –John Godfrey Saxe. I believe that this quote truly illustrates are class dynamics. We may be small, but we are loud. After 12 years I have seen many people come and go. Going from the biggest class in the school to the smallest one is not an easy task, but we accomplished it. It is evident to me that only the strong ones survived. We've been through a lot of good times and bad times together, which have made us closer. Now as we venture out into the world we can look back and know that our memories will always be with us no matter were life takes us. L.A. windmills in Germany, ass monkeys and hugables. Jess B. Duke basketball, Basketfoot will some day be an Olympic sport. Julie B. (Batman and the Riddler) Soup and Noodles, labs that manage to get put off to the last minute and are handed in weeks late, 48 hour Science Fair, I don't work my best at 3 o'clock in the morning. K.C. Tall Guy, Oster Fire with random crazy Germans. H.F. Night Kats (Train Tracks), Fights every day during Middle School. L.G. 80's music rocks, eating so much candy that are teeth hurt. K.J. Timon, red bull, meaningful conversation at a gas station. C.K. Science Fairs, Happiness runs in a circular motion… J.K. The truth is out there!!! P.L. We are the best cooks ever. We should open a cookie place. L.M. (Robin) Soup and Noodles, SATs, black diamond runs on ski day. S.S. Nikkita, eating at McDonalds. Jess T. Secret handshakes, Ketchup flavoring on popcorn, unagi…salmon skin roll. Thank you to all the teachers who have taught me through out the years. Last but not least thanks to my family. You have always been there for me and although I don't tell you this very often I love you guys.

Sissi Mansour Séguret 1992 - 2000

Well, this is it! After eight long years we're finally graduating. I'm supposed to keep this short and sweet so here it goes. Maman, Papa, France, je vous adore et merci pour tout. Maj/Dush, there's not enough room here to say everything but thanks for just being there. Jessicatory-I'll always remember going in that hotel room in York and your ketchup popcorn at the movies, whatever happens we have to keep in touch. Poki-maybe one day we'll randomly meet on the street if not, good luck. Laura-"Je t'en pris", you let my weird side come out and I owe you for that. Lisa-" who stole the cookies from the cookie jar?", always remember our weird French conversations. Lauren- my dear walking buddy, what would I do without you? Jenny- you are so spastic, say hi to Franklin! Julie- always remember "na-na-na-na-na-Leader..."(sing to Batman theme song) Holly- "I wish I could be Holly" JessB- "It's not my fault, there is not enough memory..." Kristin- thanks for sharing your techniques with me at Jess T's sweet 16. Julia- it's time you learned how to spell bowl, don't you think? (just kidding) call me we'll go to McDonald's! Kim- you are one of the nicest people I know, never change. I'll see you next year. And to all the others I've met along the way "If a man can be judged by the friends he keeps, I must be the luckiest man in town." The Leader loves you all. See ya and may the force be with you, Luv-Sissi shut up

Jessica Elizabeth Tory 1994 - 2000

I'm not going to clutter this already too small space with slashes and hyphons, trying my hardest to fit as much of the past six years into this box as possible. So, for the benefit of anyone who will ever pick up this yearbook, I give you my writeup...hyphon free. Where to begin? Too much has happened in my time at the school to even begin to attempt to write any of it down. So I think that Thank Yous are appropriate. First off, thanks to everyone who has made my time at this school what it has been - a great six years. This year in particular has been better than I could have ever imagined it possible. To all of my wonderful teachers, you have taught me so much about life, and you have taught me how to be a best version of me. Thanks for your continual support. To my classmates, thank you for everything, and I wish you all the best in life. You guys are all crazy, and we've had our lion's share of ups and downs, but it's been good. To all of the other students in this school that I have met and befriended from Kindergarten to Grade 10, you guys made my life so much more interesting. And you always made me laugh. Who am I going to mooch off for food next year? Finally, to my incredibly large and supportive family, I love you so much and I'll miss you next year. I know I'll always remember my time at this school and the people I've met this year because it has all been too much fun to forget. As for my grad quote...I must be the only person without one of those good philosophical ones...maybe I'll borrow one from an old yearbook...just kidding. Well, here's mine. Not much of a grad quote, but I like it."You can't make footprints in the sands of time by sitting on your butt. And who wants to leave buttprints in the sands of time?"Well, "that's my story and I'm stickin' to it!"

Senior School

Being a student in the Senior School at The Study is very different from being a student in any other school. At The Study, we are given an opportunity to excel ourselves in an encouraging environment. We do not simply learn in school, but also through outside activities and trips. Through these extra-curriculum activities, we learn to work as a team, to cooperate with each other, to listen and to respect everyone in our surroundings. For example the Grade 9 and 10 Outdoor Education Trip, students learned how to communicate with each other and had the opportunity to get involved with students in other grade levels. After five years at The Study, we are prepared to step into the "outside" world. Meeting all kinds of different people, visiting new places and learning in a new environment can be sometimes difficult. However, Study girls can handle it.

What an amazing year! The Millennium, Year 2000 arrived. Our lockers were covered with millions of magnets, while the locker room was filled with strange smells and a stinky fan. We tried redecorating with Christmas lights... And there were nap-times at lunch. Some big events were: driving, sweet sixteens and OUTDOOR ED!!! There was continuous talk about: fruit flies, ICQ, fruits and over-attachment, obssessiveness, diapers and flying, 007, hello gorgeous, ethyl alcohol, chocolate covered ants, the never ending lunch box and banana bread! And we can't forget the after coffee mints and those gingerbread cows. We had lots of fun this year! We look forward to next year, graduating in the FIRST year of the millenium! The grade nine class is a unique and "special" class. Each member of the Grade nine class is equally important. Our class wouldn't be the same without everyone. This new millenium gives us the opportunity to forget our past conflict, to start off the new year on the right foot. We aspire to accomplish a great deal of things and come together as a class. On a final note, the grade nine class would like to say : "Oh behave!"

We all make mistakes, but unfortunately life does not come with erasers, so we must make something of our mistakes. Laugh at ourselves and learn how to avoid them in the future. The most important thing is that we have fun on the way.

Little Mistakes
So you made a mistake
Spelled a few words wrong
Talked a little too long
Said something you shouldn't of
Fell in love
Finished your homework on the locker room floor
Left your keys in the front door
Stayed up late and
Ate tuck for snack at break
Life is full of little mistakes
But that's what makes it great
All the things that teach us right from wrong
Make us laugh
And feel like we belong

" Let your body groove to the music. "

This quote best describes the teachers that accompanied us at music camp.

The grade sevens are an energetic class who believe in no work and all play all day. "Excuse the pun."

Middle School

As they aim to establish fluency and accuracy in both languages, students of the Middle School spend half the day in English and the other half in French. They work very hard at improving their grammar and their oral skills. In order to prepare for the challenges that they will soon have to meet in the Senior School, the girls are encouraged to develop their communication, writing, reading and organisation skills at an early age. The girls are also given the opportunity to participate in overnight trips such as "Quebec City" and "Le Petit Bonheur". On these trips the girls get to interact with their peers and acquire a deeper understanding of themselves and each other while having fun and learning about different places at that same time. In school activities, including Intramural and Sports Day, the girls learn to respect one another and to work and compete as a team.

Nous pensons que d'avoir un but est quelque chose d'important car, quand on a accomplis notre but, on en prépare un nouveau. Junior School

Letters lead to words, numbers lead to calculations, Junior School leads to the Middle school. In order to get ready our Junior school students are encouraged to combine extra-curriculum activities with academic work. The program their physical and mental well-being. For example during the Junior School Sports Day, the girls had fun while they were learning to co-operate and to achieve their maximum potential. Gradually, they will realize that learning is playing. Satisfying their curiosity for nature through outdoor trip, such as Cabane à Sucre, they are making their first step towards understanding science. Teachers encourage them to take an interest in reading and writing, so that it expands their imagination. Getting involved with the Middle School students, "the BIG girls", enables them to get ready for coming years.

Rabbit: "You can't help respecting anybody who can spell 'Millenium', even if he doesn't spell it right, but spelling isn't everything. There are days when spelling 'Millenium' simply doesn't count."

Staff

Teachers

This year The Study welcomed six new staff members to its "dream team". Fit-as-a-fiddle triathlete Anastasia Polito teaches Music and English, while fellow athlete, Stephanie Mackenzie, teaches Sciences and Math. Practical joker Victor Williams teaches Géographie and Histoire and our high-tech web-master Amalia Liogas has students creating multi-media presentations. Health conscious Valerie Vien amazes students with wild-and-wacky Science experiments and soft-spoken Stephanie Claude is the much loved school counselor. A fond farewell to Terry Scott, who replaced English teacher Edna Reingewirtz, while she took the year off to be with her new baby boy, Joey. Along with these new staff members are a venerable group of teachers who have been with the school for the past two decades-or more. These include: hug-able Grade 1 teacher Kareen Finley, Math and Multi-media whiz Barbara Pappius, Music master David Christiani, History buff Robert Hamilton, Math wizard Diane Fry, Academic Advisor Mhorag Ewing, fleet-footed Admissions Director Marie-Françoise Jothy and Phys-Ed marvel Eileen Balfour. We also bid a fond farewell to three departing staff: Sylvie Beaudoin, who is taking a one-year sabbatical in Quebec City; Kim Gruia, who is heading off to teach English in Mexico and Lise Godin, who is seeking new adventures.
